Degree Path: B.A.A.S. in Occupational Leadership

College of Business and Education

OVERVIEW

The call to leadership in a particular career field is a high calling of Christ to serve others. There are many leadership, management, and advanced educational pathways that flow from the completion of the Occupational Leadership degree.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

With an Occupational Leadership degree, the career opportunities are many. With a foundation in a chosen vocation, this degree prepares you for management opportunities and the skills needed to lead well in your field.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

- Occupational Leadership graduates develop the leadership skills necessary to serve as managers in a multitude industries and career fields. You will complete a core of Bible and Theological course work helping you to develop a Christian worldview from which you will be a servant leader in any context. You will, also, have earned a bachelor's degree preparing you to enter a master's degree program to further enhance your career opportunities.
- Students wishing to enroll in the BAAS in Occupational Leadership must have completed a minimum of 18 hours in transferable vocational training prior to enrollment. Application of those 18 hours toward the student's program requirements occurs after the student has completed at least 24 credit hours at SAGU. Additional hours in vocational training, beyond the minimum of 18, will count toward commensurate elective hour requirements.
