S. C. B. I. Has Large Enrollment

The Staff Presents

Rev. O. W. Keyes

Before his eighteenth birthday Otis W. Keyes had begun teaching his first school—a little country school near his home town, Rantoul, Ill. By working as janitor in the Methodist Church and the First National Bank, he paid for his education and received his B. S. and M. S. Degrees from the University of Illinois, Champaign, Ill.

After superintending and teaching in Arlington Heights School, Chicago, Elburn Community High, West Chicago and Capital City Business College, Little Rock, Arkansas, he then turned his attention and efforts

BEGINNING ITS ELEVENTH YEAR

September 30, 1940, saw the doors swing wide as S. C. B. I. became alive with activity. Though beginning its First year as South Central, this is the eleventh year for the school, formerly known as Shield of Faith Bible Institute. Brother Shields saw the beginning of the school in Amarillo—in the basement of his church, where God laid the burden upon his heart. As his burden grew, so grew the school. In 1935 Shield of Faith moved to Ft. Worth, and God has blessed her.

So, too, has the blessing of the Lord reigned upon the efforts of Raymond T. Richey and his Southern Bible College at Houston, and thousands of young men and women have "studied to show themselves approved unto God" through his sacrifice and efforts.

As the two schools grew—both in Texas—it seemed a shame they couldn't be one, and together go forth for God! Brother Shields with the other incorporators gave Shield of Faith to the District in June. A little later Southern consolidated with us, and now we have the one school in the southland—a stronger school—a larger school—a progressive Institution standing at the top of a rocky hill in North Ft. Worth—a school built on the Rock, and showing troubled youth the way back to the Bible and God!

Dormitory Life

In the morning not long after the bugle blows you hear Dorothy Mae Wolfe say, "Oh, I wish he would be still, so I can go back to sleep." Then Virginia Lowe begins, and as you know, Dot and Jinny are the noisiest in the building. And there goes Mert saying, "I wish I didn't have to go to breakfast."

There goes the bell for prayer period. Everyone is supposed to be quiet and pray, but as the waitress finishes combing her hair, here comes Dot, "Where is my comb?"

Breakfast is served. — Bell rings for clean-up period. Dot Fullerton always says, "Where is the broom?" (when she takes a notion to sweep). "Oh, pick up your things before Sister McCafferty gets there," says Verna

Monday morning our hearts were thrilled to see the great number of students who came to enter the greatest year of Bible training that has ever been offered in the Sunny Southland. As we looked over the great sea of faces that represented a great host of Spirit filled young people from different parts of the United States, we felt sure in our hearts that from this splendid group of young people that many of them would go out to bless the world as missionaries, pastors, evangelists, teachers, Sunday school workers and good citizens.

The opening was greatly attended by many of the District Officials of the Assemblies of God. Rev. F. D. Davis, District Superintendent Ft. Worth, E. B. Crump, Secretary Treasurer, Wichita Falls, Rev. Eiting, Dallas, Rev. Bennett, Frankston, Rev. Miles, Breckenridge. A great number of Ministers and their wives and members of their congregations also attended. In fact our chapel was filled to capacity in this glorious opening service.

After a splendid song service in which everyone joined in and

Meet the Board

By Reveille Clopton

All summer long, and way into the early fall we have set our margin space three spaces inside the red line that separated the board members from the rest of the letter head. And so often we have wondered about the men who belonged to those names.

Brother Davis? Brother Robinson? Brother Crump? Brother Eiting? We did know Brother Stewart and all of us adored him and his humor so often colored with pathos—and Brother Davis'

Well, well, here school has just been going on a month and we sure have enjoyed ourselves, had just loads of fun—for instance Juanita has been thinking it over and she says that ice cream tastes better if you eat it with a slipper spoon. Three of our girls have tried to carry off the zoo personal—they wanted a flea circus—Sister Fullerton must have offered Bro. Moore half of her discount on Civics

Missionary Moments

Curt Davis

During the day's hustle and bustle we have a time of remembering the cares of this nation. A time when you can transfer your thoughts and prayers to some foreign shore. Every school day, beginning at twelve, we learn the need of Missions as we are told of the pitiful repetition of prayer—as the Chinese patiently turn the prayer wheel endlessly, yet to no avail.

And as India permeates the very soul of one we realize the great need to show her hundred of millions that not by slow pilgrimage inch by inch body thrown on the hot sands toward Mecca—is atonement given, but through the flow of Calvary.

And the drums of dark Africa grow loud in our ears as we learn of the sacrifice of Lillian Trasher, Livingston—as they have seen the rage of the heathen calmed by salvation through Jesus Christ.

Quickly we cry out to God that South America might take her burden to the Lord and we pray for the Missionary in the Land of the Christless Cross—for there are MILLIONS, MILLIONS in the Valley of Decision.

Let's pause, and lift up the hands of our workers in their struggle for the Land of their Calling.

Curtis Davis, Reporter.

Myrt: "But the cleaners shrank my dress—"

Bro. Keyes: "We'll see about that."

Myrt: "Alpaca just out-shrinks anything."

Donald: "We don't use alpaca, we use Naphtha!"

Opening of the Holy Spirit

On Tuesday night, Sept. 24, as the boys and girls were pouring over their respective studies, one of the dormitory boys was stricken with paralysis. Our good Dean of Boys, Bro. Fullerton, immediately carried the news to each of the Study Halls and each of our precious students fell on their knees. They knew that our God would hear their cries, for many of them could look back upon a time when their bodies were afflicted and prayer was made in their behalf and the great God of Heaven heard their cries and stretched forth His hand and healed them. So it was with utmost confidence and sincere child like faith that prayer was made for Richard. As each one formed his petition to God in his behalf, they in turn were drawn closer to Him. As hands were uplifted and consecrations were made hearts were truly kindled with Pentecostal fires.

As the Power began to fall, you could look into the Boy's sick room and see the boys with Bro. Keyes and Bro. Fullerton as they were earnestly seeking God for the healing of this student. All at once after being unconscious for hours and arms not able to straighten, Richard straightened out his arms and shouts of victory filled the room and tears of joy fell. The Lord had heard prayer and another miracle had been performed in an age when many would like to tell us that the age of Miracles are past. But thanks be to God, He remains the same yesterday, today and forever.

The results of this wonderful manifestation of the Spirit are nine precious young people gloriously filled with the Holy Ghost. All praise be given to His Holy Name.

Round Up—Yes

The close of September brought together all the teachers for the three departments of dear old S. C. B. I.

A very delicious meal was arranged by the Mesdames Fullerton and Keyes.

Of course, eating would be very unappealing if it were not for the excellent dietician, Mrs. McDonald.

"How much money can we spend on the girls' dormitories?" "Now, I've just got to have that typing room papered." "Brother Davis, we can never get accredited until I have an expensive science table." "What can I do without pots and pans?" "Now, let here boys are going to have their beds painted and all new mattresses this year. These and hundreds of other like statements have flooded the ears of the newly-formed board. At last in the autumn setting of the S. C. B. I. dining room, dear Bro.

Davis and wife with part of the board hear the heart felt expressions of those employed by them.

It was grand! Much laughter mingled with heartfelt tears was expressed. And our President went away feeling there was a thousand times more to S. C. B. I. than money and departments. Praise our God!

A pleasant feature of the evening were the specials rendered by the students. The "Old Rugged Cross" made us feel the presence of Jesus very keenly.

And now, since the Round Up, may each one March on to be more like Jesus and perform his or her duty until Jesus says it is enough. Amen.

 MUSIC NOTES
Mrs. Chambless

If you are a pianist or musician, whether you are enrolling for instrumental instruction or not, you will receive great benefit from the Harmony classes. Classes meet Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday at the sixth period.

If you want to learn to sing, get in the Rudiment classes on Wednesday and Friday at the fifth period, and you who know rudiments come to the Sight Singing class on Wednesday and Thursday at the seventh period.

We need more high school girls for the chorus. We're moving right along. Come and meet us on Wednesday and Friday at 3:30 p. m. We'll be seeing the Bible Students to organize a chorus, when you get settled.

Pray that God's richest blessings will be upon all that attend school, and that we will be found watching and waiting when the Lord returns.

received a great blessing, the testimony service was conducted by Rev. Leuden which was very encouraging to hear how God has been blessing each life. After our District Superintendent had introduced a number of visiting ministers, one of our beloved pastors of this city, Rev. A. C. Bates, brought a most glorious message from the precious Word of God. His text was: 1 Corinthians 3:11. His message was very inspiring and made each of us feel that we wanted to run this race in such a way that when we come to the sunset of life, we can say with Paul, "I have fought a good fight, I have kept the faith, I have finished my course: Henceforth there is laid up for me a Crown of Righteousness which the Lord the Righteous Judge will give me in that Day, and not to me only, but to all those that love His appearing."

In the afternoon service, in which the attendance was greatly enlarged, visiting singers were asked to render special numbers. The Gospel Trio sang, "Getting Ready to Leave This World." A mixed Quartet sang, "He Loved Me So," which was greatly enjoyed. Sis. Eskew and Sis. Huffstutler, of St. Louis, Missouri, sang, "Working on the Road," which proved a great blessing. Then Rev. E. B. Crump delivered a splendid message on the entire book of Jonah.

This wonderful gathering was gloriously climaxed by a great Jubilee service at the Assembly of God Church, Fourteenth and Boulevard. After the boys Quartet sang and the Girl's trio rendered a good number, Rev. F. D. Davis preached a most inspiring message.

Now that the School is moving on so greatly we are anticipating many glorious out-pourings of the Holy Spirit. Let us consecrate and keep our hearts in tune with Him and He will give us the desire of our hearts.

Sis. Elizabeth Keyes.

Mae. All through the day and 'most every period, here comes girls to powder their noses, especially Elaine Smith, no, she isn't the only one; you should just see Dot Mae.

After school the only thing you see is working girls doing their work assignments. Here comes Juanita getting her laundry girls; she really has a time.

Every minute you hear, "Is Sister McCafferty upstairs? Where is Sister Mac? I wish she would hurry up." My, but she is popular . . . I wonder why?

After supper the rooms are quiet, everyone is playing "two-deep" outside. Won't they ever learn anything else?

Bell rings for boy's study hall, leaving the girls ALONE. Isn't that awful!

Between 7:00 and 7:30 everyone seems to be busy, some rolling up their hair, getting books ready for study hall. Here comes Peggy saying, "Where is my house-coat?" Virginia has it on, of course. There goes the study hall bell! If less than ten are late for study hall, I will eat Sister McCafferty's shoe — if she will offer it.

Study hall is over. Now all you hear is shouting and cutting up, but finally after the "lights out" the junior and senior dormitory seems to be very quiet until someone shouts, "May I wear your red ribbons tomorrow, O. K." Oh! here comes Sister McCafferty! "Who was that talking?" I still wonder who the girls are who talk after lights are out on the hill of South Central Bible Institute?

Dormitory reporter, Joy Posey.

books—why else would the man try to sell them to his History class?

One of our girls has threatened to kill Jackie if he winks at her again while another one has offered to give her shoes if she could go with Andy.

Eva Lee has been dodging Sis. Mac and her yardstick—we wonder how long she will be successful because Sis. Mac says, "15 and no arguments." Dorothea tried to pull her uniform two inches longer when Bro. Keyes sent for her.

We have been informed from reliable sources that Sister Wise talks in her sleep. The Dormitories aren't the only places troubled with mice either, Sister Wise and Sister Lyons have found one in their Breadbox.

Sis. Lyon: I want to take your picture, Sis. Wise.

Sis. Wise: O, no you don't!

Sis. Lyon: Please—pose!

Sis. Wise: Dashes into office.

Sis. Lyon: All right then—I'll just go to the zoo and snap the elephant—

Who tipped Bro. McCafferty's chair at the teacher's banquet?

And did you know—the musical Presbyterian, Bro. Carl Stewart, eats his dessert to the rhythm of, "I want to be faithful."

The Dorothy's are so fond of the Penningtons—of course we do mean Ann.

Does anyone know why Myrt can't take a test on Thursday?

Millard Collins — the young Millard—visited a fortune teller and reports that she said, He is lovable, quick and willing—can it be the mischievous child we have known?

While wondering who could cover the campus for news—and sort of get around—why does one remember Drew Markum?

Wesley Fullbright has ideas and airplane models and does he or doesn't he adore Verna Mae Wrigley? We think his heart belongs to all boys interested in airplane models—Let's meet and get going, pardners.

A phone call came for the honorable Dr. Leslie and characteristic of fstones, Myrt paged the campus for our Sophomore Casanova, Leslie Stubbs!

Girls! If any of you are interested, now's the time to smile sweetly at Billy and above all be nice in Study Hall. Yes, he's a free man now and has an extra ring on hand too! Billy says, "She and I just didn't agree."

The widely known Dr. Leslie, psychologist, lecturer, cosmopolitan and owner of Southern Business College was on the campus the other day—and unbeknownst to her—psycho-analyzed one of our students, while she was working? (talking about our "Voice"), suddenly he said, "After Miss Lyons asks her to be quiet—I have been listening to her, noting her thoughts, she has quite a fine mind"—and he meant—Reveille Clopton.

Flowers to: Frank Martin for his attendance in Missionary prayer, and his earnestness in Church.

Roger and Fred for singing in church when asked—even though not given time for preparation.

What say we make a point of always doing our bit and our best in Church. Let's never refuse when requested to do something for the Lord. Then we can't hear complaints that we do no help.

And while we are remembering the Merit system—let's take our hats off to Alma Anthony Bussey, Billy Putman, Curtis Davis, Marie Knott for remembering to pray that God will bless foreign lands too.

We have report that Sue Landrum, student last year, who was in a serious automobile accident, kept out of school this term, is much better. We trust she can be with us soon.

buoyancy and considerateness make us all want to take a letter for him (and most always he has plenty). But not all of us knew all of our Board of Directors, and some of us didn't know any of them.

So last week we had a board meeting! Naturally the Business office was abuzz, and we students all agog, placing the wizened cherubic face of Brother Crump—to Brother Crump—and whispering, no, he must be Brother Eiting—no he isn't—

And Brother Robinson spoke for us in chapel—So we met them all—but Brother Eiting—and as we were beginning to abandon hope and to have to just leave him on the left side of the margin, separating us from the Board of Directors. Then he came in two days late but smiling. And as we looked at our Board—we saw the love of God shown on every face.

We the students say, "God bless our directors—and come again—soon."

After his conversion the Lord called Bro. Keyes to use his talents in His Vineyard, and after spending part time in service of God, along with his work, Bro. Keyes entered the Evangelistic field and last year came to our school as Instructor in the Business Department. The summer again found he and Sis. Keyes in Evangelistic work—but this time with them were June Henderson and Myrtice Rhodes, students of our school last year. The Lord was with them in their efforts and blessed them.

Bro. Keyes came back to school to work for the Lord here and to be Superintendent of our school, to work for us. The staff couldn't close without telling you how beautifully Bro. Keyes plays the piano and accordion.
